CALIFORNIANS IN CONFERENCE TODAY WITH ROOSEVELT ON THE JAPANESE QUESTION

Senator Perkins Says That President's Attack Is Unwarranted

CALIFORNIANS IN SESSION WITH ROOSEVELT

Anti-Japanese Legislation Is Discussed at Conference.

MEETING'S RESULT IS DECLARED A SECRET

State Department Official Is Present and This Is Causing Talk.

WASHINGTON, FEB. 8.—AS A RESULT OF AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE ON THE JAPANESE SITUATION AT THE WHITE HOUSE TODAY, PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WILL GIVE OUT ANOTHER STATEMENT FOR PUBLICATION TOMORROW. THE CONFERENCE WAS PARTICIPATED IN BY SENATOR FLINT, REPRESENTATIVE KAHN AND INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSIONER LANE OF CALIFORNIA, SECRETARY OF STATE BACON AND ASSISTANT SECRETARY O'LAUGHLIN.

THE CONFERENCE WAS NOT A LONG ONE AND AT ITS CONCLUSION THE CONFEREES DECLARED THAT THEIR MOUTHS HAD BEEN CLOSED BY THE PRESIDENT, WHO HAD ASKED THEM TO SAY NOTHING, AS HE INTENDED TO MAKE A STATEMENT. THE STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS ALSO DECLARED THAT THEY COULD NOT TALK.

SEVENTY-FIVE MORE TALESMEN CALLED TODAY IN CALHOUN CASE

Many of the Venire Proved to be Englishmen and Only Thirty-Four of Them Ordered to Report for Questioning.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 8.—Once again this morning and for the ninth time since the opening of the trial of Patrick Calhoun, Judge Lawlor was compelled to go through with the arduous process of the first weeding out of the mass of veniremen summoned to appear on the jury panel of seventy-five men.

Once again careful note of the answers given by the citizens examined relative to their business affairs and their associates was taken down by representatives of the prosecution and defense.

Once again the forces of special detectives employed by both sides were sent here and there in all directions in search of private information.

Detectives Busy

These gunshoe men are busy as bees at the present time, especially those on the staff of William J. Burns, and few of them are to be seen in or about the courtroom or mingling with the spectators as has been their custom in previous trials.

Detectives Oliver and Conneau, the latter a brother-in-law of Langdon, are doing all the inside work in Carpenters' Hall, Burns himself rarely putting in an appearance.

The custom adopted by the prosecution on former occasions has been to endeavor to disqualify some juror already temporarily passed without the exercise of a peremptory challenge by placing their detective on the stand and showing that the citizen expressed an opinion about the case on some remote occasion.

ANTI-JAPANESE QUESTION IS POSTPONED

California Senate Decides to Withhold Debate for Time.

TO BE CONSIDERED ON NEXT THURSDAY

Matter Goes Over at Request of Leavitt After Short Discussion.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—The Senate decided this morning to postpone until Thursday any discussion of the report of the committee on executive communications regarding anti-Japanese legislation. Marc Anthony of San Francisco attempted to precipitate a debate, but failed. He had made a motion to call up the report, recommending that the Senate refuse passage to any of the anti-Japanese bills in the Assembly. The report, which was based upon a recent message from the Governor advising against such legislation, was submitted last week and placed on file. Anthony declared today that his constituents were clamoring for action. Senator H. M. Hurd of Los Angeles, chairman of the committee, also expressed the view that the report should be discussed at once.

Matter Postponed

Senator Frank W. Leavitt of Alameda moved that the matter be put over until next Thursday, the day following that upon which the Johnson school segregation bill will be disposed of finally in the Assembly. Senator Edward I. Wolfe of San Francisco raised the objection to Anthony's motion that the report was not before the house and the motion therefore was out of order. He said, however, that he would vote for Leavitt's motion to defer action, but wanted to give notice that he would on Thursday raise the same objection to Anthony's motion that he did today.

The Leavitt motion carried by a vote of 25 to 6, Anthony insisting upon a roll call. Those who voted against delay were Anthony, Burnett, Finn, Hare and Kelly.

Committee Reports

The committee on labor, capital and immigration reported favorably on the bill by Anthony providing that thirty days prior to the State general election of November, 1910, the Governor shall issue his proclamation calling upon the qualified electors to signify their will as to

OAKLAND POLICE MAKE RAID ON WORSHIPERS

Young Girl, Made Mad by Religion, Tears at Her Hair.

COMPLAINT IS MADE AGAINST PREACHER

Pitiful Case Is Brought to Attention of Local Authorities.

A squad from the police department, headed by Captain Lynch, last night raided the Who-so-ever-will Gospel Mission at 265 Ninth street, on complaint of B. C. Paine of the United Messenger Service, Walter Apple of 1068 Kipling street and Chuck Folger of 723 Ninth street, who stated that Evangelina Barbosa, a fifteen-year-old follower of the cult, was rolling on the floor in horrible convulsions, tearing her hair, biting blood from her arms and shrieking wildly, while other members of the faith knelt by her, encouraging the child's horrible hysteria.

Girl Quieted

Before the police arrived the girl had been quieted, and, though sobbing convulsively, was apparently rational. No arrests were made, though C. H. Sparks, leader of the cult, was warned that unsavory exhibitions will not be permitted in this city. Because of their baleful influence over a number of victims, principally women, the band, known as the "Holy Rollers," has been driven from San Jose, Seattle and Los Angeles, where they previously maintained headquarters.

Is Mere Child

Little Evangelina Barbosa, their latest victim, is little more than a child. She attended the mission nightly, and, encouraged by Sparks to believe she is chosen of the Lord to lead the religious cult, works herself into a religious frenzy that leaves her weak and spent and is fast undermining her health. The girl is unusually pretty, with large brown eyes and curling black hair.

Face Is Drawn

Her face white and drawn, the young fanatic sank stupidly into a chair gazing before her with unseeing eyes. "I don't want to talk," she moaned. "Please go away," Sparks, standing by with first face, refused to give any explanation of his strange influence over the girl, which apparently dominates her completely. "She is chosen by God and is not of this world," he said briefly. "The police have hounded us from town to town because they know not what they do. The girl is another Joan of Arc. She

ATTACK BY ROOSEVELT ON SENATOR PERKINS TOTALLY UNWARRANTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In view of the attack which President Roosevelt has made upon Senator Perkins, the senior Senator from California, for his attitude on the Japanese agitation in his State, friends of the Pacific Coast Senator say he will defend himself on the floor of the Senate. Senator Perkins consulted with several Senators on the subject today. It is urged that while there may be a difference of opinion between the Senator and his colleagues as to the rights of a State to take certain action, regardless of treaties entered into by the Federal government, he will receive strong support on account of the disapproval among the Senators of an attack upon one of their number by the Executive at this time.

Senator Perkins claims that the criticism of his attitude on the naval program is unwarranted. "In 1893," he explains, "I became a member of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee. At that time we did not have a single battleship in commission and very few first-class cruisers. Today we have twenty-seven battleships in commission and five in course of construction, in addition to the fleet of first-class cruisers, torpedo-boats and other modern vessels of war. "The appropriation of 1893 was only $23,000,000 for the support and building of the navy and everything else. The naval appropriation bill now pending in the Senate amounts to $125,000,000. "In 1893 we had but 15,000 sailors and marines. Today we have about 45,000 sailors and marines. "I have voted for every increase in the naval appropriation that has come before the committee with the exception of the last proposal to build four battleships in one year, which I did not think expedient, believing it the part of wisdom and wise business policy to profit by our own experience and the mistakes in naval construction of other countries. "As a verification of what I say, I would refer to the Congressional Record, which records every vote for and against any pending measure."

After arresting a number of suspicious characters last night, and sweating them without result, Sheriff W. P. Taylor has started another search for the man who brutally assaulted a Miss Elizabeth in possession of a city on Saturday evening. The officers are a shirt, a necktie, a blue bandana and a club wrapped around with wigs, which was picked up at the scene of the crime.

Miss Grapes is still in a dangerous condition, but the physicians are confident that she will recover from the terrible treatment to which she was subjected. She told the police that her assailant was a young boy, saw the criminal hurry away from the scene and can identify him. Sheriff Taylor refuses to give out any of the information he has received.

SPEAKER STANTON SAYS HE WILL CARRY OUT WISHES OF ROOSEVELT

TIME TO ACT, NOT TO TALK, HE SAYS

Other Telegrams Are Also Received From the White House.

ATTEMPT BEING MADE TO STOP LEGISLATION
Matter Concerning Japanese Being Considered in Both Houses.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Speaker Stanton, who is in this city, received from President Roosevelt yesterday a telegram giving him permission to make public the message sent by the President to him on February 6, the full text of which was given on tonight at Sacramento by Assemblyman Truitt of Los Angeles.

Speaker Stanton explains this is not the telegram upon which he based his appeal to the Assembly on February 6, but it is the only communication which he has received from the President which he is at liberty to make public, and that he does not care to talk it this time about the matter.

Conceals Himself

Speaker Stanton arrived in this city Saturday to transact private business and purposely, he said, concealed himself from interviewers. Last night he consented to the publication of the President's second telegram to him and was willing to have it said that whatever action he had taken in Sacramento toward influencing proposed legislation was based on statements from the President similar to those contained in the telegram made public.

He said, however, that there had been other telegrams from the President to him.

"I do not believe it is the time for me to talk of this matter now," he said. "The President's words should be enough. They indicate clearly his desire in the matter, and I believe I am in the right in every effort I can make to carry out his wishes."

President Directs

"An indication of the sentiment regarding this matter," continued the Speaker, "may be that at least fifty representatives of business men have approached me voluntarily and my remarks here and congratulated me upon the stand I have taken."

"However, I am doing what I believe to be the desire of the President, and I take it that whatever course he may have for wishing to prevent anti-Japanese legislation by any of the Legislatures at this time will be divulged in the proper time, and will be found by the people to be sufficient."

"If I had any intention of what his reasons are for wishing such legislation withdrawn at this time, I would not be willing to make it known now."

STANTON PRAISED BY ROOSEVELT

President Looks to Good Sense of California to Avert Trouble With Japan.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—The telegram to Speaker Stanton, which Roosevelt sent after Stanton's sensational statement in the Assembly concerning the anti-Japanese bill, was made public yesterday by Assemblyman Truitt of Los Angeles. The telegram was given in response to a message from Governor Gillett, who had received instructions from the President to make public the message. The telegram, dated February 6, was sent following Stanton's sensational statement in the Assembly that the President had directed him to prevent anti-Japanese legislation.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8, 1909. Philip A. Stanton, Speaker of the Assembly, Sacramento, Cal.—Please accept the expression of my profound obligations, also the American people as a whole, for the high and patriotic words you are rendering. I have limited confidence in the same great sense and high-mindedness of the people of the State of California. I know that they appreciate that the National Government is not in a position to achieve the ends that California has in view, and at the same time preserving unbroken relations of respect and good will with a great and friendly nation, and therefore I am sure the people of California will support you in taking the position you have taken, which is so clearly in the interests of the people of the American people as a whole, but especially of the State of California.

To Keep the Army Surgeons Interested

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Consideration is being given by Surgeon General S. D. Taylor of the army to plans to keep the inactive commissioned officers of the new army medical reserve corps, which is composed of prominent physicians and surgeons throughout the country, alive to the interest of the service.

It is desirable that these men who are commissioned as second lieutenants, should be induced to enter the army in the work of the medical reserve corps. It is hoped by the Surgeon General that these officers may attend the army maneuvers or be members and participants in the maneuvers in the States in which they are appointed. Experience thus gained would be of decided advantage to the officers of the medical corps.

SENATOR PERKINS DENIES HE IS AN ENEMY TO NAVY

WASHINGTON, February 8.—Senator Perkins of California commented last night upon the attacks made upon him in a telegram said to have been sent by President Roosevelt to Governor Gillett of California.

Senator Perkins denied that he was an enemy seeking to thwart the progress of the navy and declared that he would rely upon his record in the Senate in support of this contention. He intimated that the only basis for the President's criticism of his action and what he termed the only exception in his record in support of the navy and its needs was his vote against the four battleships programme urged by the President.

Relating to the position he has taken on the Japanese question, Senator Perkins said that in the face of any treaty with a foreign power, in his opinion, the right of a State to have its own policing power was beyond question.

Senator Perkins stated that his position on the matters referred to by the President in his telegram was well understood, particularly in his own State.

Official Washington is not quite sure it understands this wholly unexpected breaking of lances by the President and the senior Senator from California.

It has only a hazy idea why one of the White House denunciations should be launched at Perkins by means of an adroit telegram to Governor Gillett, praising Flint's support of the administration in one paragraph and in the next accusing Perkins of having persistently been a stumbling block in the way of a greater navy.

No general impression existed in Washington that Perkins has acted against the real advocates of upbuilding the navy, as the President's latest telegram to Governor Gillett asserted, and members of Congress suggest the Chief Executive was putting it rather strong when he telegraphed California that Perkins at Washington has advised "a policy of wanton insult" to the Japanese.

ROOSEVELT DECLARES HE IS ASTOUNDED AT SENATOR PERKINS

The following dispatch has been made public at Washington: "Governor J. N. Gillett, Sacramento, Cal.

"I saw Flint as soon as your message came. He has been helping me in every possible way, and after consulting with him I wired Speaker Stanton a message which he can make public if he thinks it advisable. Please see him. I am astounded at Perkins' conduct. He has for the last seven years done whatever he could to hamper us in the upbuilding of the navy, and has acted against the real advocates of the navy. Yet now he advises a policy of wanton insult. I have nothing to advise at the present moment, but I can not speak too highly in praise of the course you have followed. I suppose my telegram to the speaker is the best way I can render assistance. Please wire me if there is anything I can do."

STORM HOLDS UP TRAINS BETWEEN HERE AND SOUTH

Heavy Snow in Hills and Rains in Valleys

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—A storm now prevailing over the entire Pacific coast has seriously interfered with railroad and telegraphic communication. Heavy rains have fallen in Southern California, causing washouts along the railroad lines, and carrying away telegraph poles. There is much snow in the mountains, and should warm weather follow there will be another rise in the rivers, according to the reports received by the weather bureau.

Traffic Crippled

The Southern Pacific lines are now open from Santa Barbara on the south, and to Alameda, Oregon, on the north, but below Santa Barbara floods have seriously crippled traffic. Seven hundred feet of track have been washed away at Oceano and trains are unable to pass that point in the same direction. Travel is also at a standstill on the Pacific Coast Railroad and many of the county roads have been rendered impassable.

Several serious washouts and landslides on the Tehachan grade between Bakersfield and Los Angeles have occurred, prostrating telegraph and telephone lines and effectively blocking travel on the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads. The cut-off of the southern part of the state from direct connection with this city.

New Resolution

J. B. Santoni of Ukiah introduced the following joint resolution:

"Whereas The recent attitude of some California officials and others in high authority has given the people of the United States, and the United States generally, a wrong impression as to the real sentiment of the people of the Pacific Coast relative to the Japanese question, and another lengthy telegram from President Roosevelt today on the subject of Japanese legislation by the California Legislature, but he declined to make any comments. In reply to a question regarding the President's telegram he at first said that he could make nothing of the kind public without the President's sanction, but he then declared that he had received any such message from the President.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—A man was choked about the neck by a man of strong hands, the fingers of which contracted until at last he dropped into unconsciousness. The man was a clerk for the Whittier-Columbia company, and last evening when he was walking along Second avenue within a few feet of his store, he was seized by a man who was in a deep excavation. The man was a white man, about 30 years of age, with a mustache, and a gold watch chain. He was wearing a dark suit and a light-colored shirt. He was carrying a bag of money, and the man who choked him was seen to take it. The man who was choked was taken to the hospital, and the police are now looking for the man who choked him.

other conference by the President and Secretaries. No where did Wright reach a conclusion of which the conference was made, and he was told that the name Japan or China had not been mentioned and the situation an unfortunate one, relating to a bill in Congress on disorders from the navy and navy.

The positive statement was made that not one word was mentioned as to an intention from Japan and how she might treat certain legislation in California. Nor was the President's word clearing up the remarks made by the speaker of the California lower House, that he was in possession of information showing that the situation would be critical if the Legislature persisted in its course.

Causes Comment

The fact that the State department was engaged in a conference with certain representatives of the Japanese government, and that the Japanese government was in a position to make a statement of its policy toward the United States, was a cause of comment. The Japanese government had been in a position to make a statement of its policy toward the United States, and the Japanese government had been in a position to make a statement of its policy toward the United States.

Gives Attitude

This letter, which was mailed this afternoon and later will be made public, is a statement of the attitude of the administration as to anti-Japanese legislation and in opposition of action of any kind at this time.

Mr. McKinley declined to discuss his interview with the President, but it is known that after he returned to the capital he had a long conference with the President, and that he had a long conference with the President, and that he had a long conference with the President.

Danger of Washouts

In the Sacramento Valley trains are not running between Davisville and Marysville on account of the embankments along the line having been washed away, and the consequent danger of washouts.

Discuss Subject

During the day the entire delegation in the house, with the exception of Mr. Perkins, met in a conference and discussed the Japanese question to a greater or lesser extent. It is stated upon the authority of the delegation that Mr. Perkins was the only one who manifested an attitude toward state action on Japanese question. It was apparent that Mr. Perkins was in a position to make a statement of his attitude toward the Japanese question, and that he was in a position to make a statement of his attitude toward the Japanese question.

ROOSEVELT AND PERKINS AT ODDS

President Irritated by Anti-Japanese Speech of Congressman McKinlay.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Roosevelt is not less impatient of the opposition to his Japanese policy now than he was two years ago when he first threatened California with his displeasure because of the public school incident. It has been commented on publicly that Senator Perkins has not once been called to the White House the President turning his back to him when wishing to obtain information or exert pressure in California.

Perkins feels this slight and has spoken of it. He declined to attend the President's reception last Thursday to the members of Congress, and the House of Representatives.

Perkins has stated that he thought the statements regarding Japanese labor were greatly overdone and that he believed, with others like Senator Bacon, who specialize on international law, that nothing in existing treaties could be construed as giving the President authority from enacting legislation affecting school or police regulations.

OREGON AGAINST HINDUS AND JAPS

Resolution Which "Views With Alarm" Incoming Asiatics Expected to Pass.

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 8.—More anti-Japanese bills are introduced by the Oregon Legislature, the latest resolution which memorializes Congress to extend the present exclusion law so as to include Hindus, Japanese and all other Asiatics. "Views with alarm" the present talk of repeal of the law and urges Congress to take some action which will stop the influx of Asiatics, who, the resolution says, are invading the Pacific coast States by the thousands and who threaten to lower the standard of American living and do not assimilate with the Caucasian race. This resolution is expected to pass the Senate with but few dissenting votes and to meet similar success in the House. Another anti-Japanese bill is said to be in preparation and is expected to be introduced during the coming week. This bill prohibits the future acquisition of real holdings by all Asiatics, including Japanese, though it will not affect present holdings. It is said that the bill will be made of this bill is more of a problem. It is said that the bill will be made of this bill is more of a problem.

STILL SEEKING JURORS IN CALIFORNIA CASE

Gibson Says Stapf Stool for Burns

SAN FRANCISCO, February 8.—That the story told by Henry Stapf, who is being held at the city prison on a charge of robbery, implicating Detective Tom Gibson in the dynamiting of "Big Jim" Gallagher's Oakland home, was the result of a plan concocted by William J. Burns, was the statement made by Gibson when seen in his office in the Balboa Building this morning. The chief of detectives for the United Railroads does not deny that Stapf made an attempt to deliver a letter to him alleged to have been written by Peter Claudians, but he maintains that this was part of the scheme, and believes that a trap was set to try and catch him and put him permanently out of the way.

Note In His Hand

"About two months ago after leaving my office one afternoon I went up Market street to a saloon next the Bismarck. As I was standing at the bar a rough-looking character came in and asked if this was Mr. Gibson," said the detective. "I told him yes. He then said: 'I have a note for you,' and I immediately asked, 'who is it from?' 'It's from Pete,' he replied. 'Pete who?' I inquired. The note he held was apparently open in his hand, but without saying another word he ran from the place. I immediately told the bartender, who had heard the whole conversation, to make a note of the time and date. He asked me why I didn't take the note and have a look at it, anyhow, but I told him I thought it was a plant and a little while later left the saloon.

Fearful a Plant

"Several days after that I was on my way to my office, when, at the corner of Montgomery and Market streets, the same individual approached, but I did not recognize him until he again said he had a note for me from Pete. I told him I wouldn't take it, and he left, but I kept my eye on him and noticed that there were five of Burns' detectives standing on the other corner. I immediately realized the situation and as soon as I could get into communication with my wife, I told her to accept no notes of any kind for me from anybody.

"I believe if I had taken that letter they would have arrested me next day. I think it is all a scheme of Burns and it is significant that they have not made the thing public during these two months."

Many Englishmen

Before he finished questioning the panel this morning, Judge Campbell had broken the almost completely new record of the English subject—one of these, Robert Patterson Richey, a resident of British Columbia, had been caught in the net of the court balliff while temporarily rejoining at the Pacific Union club.

Begin Questioning

"Thirty-four talesmen were ordered to return at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the result of the personal questioning and at 11:0 a. m. the examination of the six men remaining on the eighth panel was begun by Attorney Stanley Moore.

Wilson a Tartar

Henry met his match this morning in the person of J. A. Wilson, a mason and builder, who had been called to the box during the session, and the result of the encounter showed the prosecutor retiring and disgruntled from the field. It was at first impossible to determine on just which side the fence the talesman stood, and when the prosecutor asked a new tack and accused the corporations of falling to defend him, but failed utterly. He was finally dismissed by the court and Attorney Stanley Moore reserved an exception to the ruling.

On His Metal

When Henry went for him, however, he seemed to be put immediately on his metal, and he was ready for the prosecutor at every thrust. He told him plainly that he believed the United Railroads had been held up and that he thought there had been too much immunity granted, and when the prosecutor asked a new tack and accused the corporations of falling to defend him, but failed utterly. He was finally dismissed by the court and Attorney Stanley Moore reserved an exception to the ruling.

Wanted to Go

Wilson had business in the country and was anxious to be allowed to go for that reason, but when he had expressed an opinion unfavorable to the prosecution, Henry was desirous of showing him up, but failed utterly. He was finally dismissed by the court and Attorney Stanley Moore reserved an exception to the ruling.

He Asks Questions

Henry then went for Wilson for further orders. He had evidently received advance information and knew something about the opinion held by the talesman. Afterward, when he asked the talesman if he was sworn to give the truth, the talesman answered that he was, and that he was not to be influenced by any man in any way, would you.

Has the Earmarks

"You think this is a case like that?" inquired Henry. "It has all the earmarks of it," returned Wilson. "The way it looks to you, is it?"

Read the Papers

He knew none of the attaches of the so-called graft prosecution, but he knew the papers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—In the presence of a large audience of spectators, who crowded every inch of the courtroom and overflowed into the corridor beyond the trial of Michael W. Coffey, accused of murdering a laborer from the United Railroads in connection with the overhead trolley franchise deal, was begun in Judge Dunne's court this morning. Judge (Circuit) Cook appeared for the first time as one of the attorneys for the defense and will look out for Coffey's interests as associate counsel together with Attorneys Robert Peirce and Franklin Bull.

The opening statement to the jury made by Assistant District Attorney William H. Cook, who detailed at length the alleged killing of the supervisors by the "Big Jim" Gallagher and told of how Coffey had received $2000 prior to a trip East, in the shadow of the ruins of the old city hall.

Immunity Contract

At the conclusion of the argument Attorney Cook presented Coffey's immunity contract signed by him, and read it in the courtroom in much the same manner as they have during all previous trials.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—When the hearing in the Coffey case was resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the court kept busy for fully fifteen minutes with the questioning of a number of witnesses, who either failed to put in an appearance or this morning, or who had been subpoenaed to appear regarding their individual situation.

When the actual examination of witnesses began, Attorney Moore proceeded to interrogate Harry J. Smith of 119 Geary street, a dealer in berry products. His opinion was that the Coffey case was a case of a man who had been in the city for a long time and had read the testimony of several of the supervisors given before the Grand Jury.

Was Excused

He was finally excused under a challenge by the defense and the questioning of Ed N. White, manager of the A. Hall Fruit Company, residing at 23 Central avenue, was begun. He testified that he had read the testimony of several of the supervisors given before the Grand Jury.

Firm Opinion

This opinion proved to be unimpaired and he was released from further duty in the case, after only a few questions had been put to him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—At the hearing of the Coffey case this afternoon, Supervisor McLean was introduced to the effect that the city should erect a $50,000 structure at the northwest corner of Golden Gate avenue and Third street, which would hold all the municipalities. McLean stated that at present the city was paying $100,000 yearly rental in the building of the proposed city hall, this large annual expense will be done away with.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—With only 10 cents a box of 25 cigars, who says that he is a junkie? The answer is "Big Jim" Gallagher, who spent $100,000 in three months. This information was introduced to the effect that the city should erect a $50,000 structure at the northwest corner of Golden Gate avenue and Third street, which would hold all the municipalities. INDEALOUS RAGE KNOCKS WOMAN SENSELESS IN STREET

STRIKES HER IN FACE WITH FIST

Charles Kuks, Who Figured in Reno Shooting, Taken to Jail After Attack.

Charles Kuks, son of a prominent saloon man, who two years ago came into considerable notoriety in Reno, Nev., by shooting and killing a gambler who was paying attention to his wife last night figured in an episode which he struck and rendered unconscious Miss Nichols, of 1174 Myrtle street, because she spoke to Deputy Sheriff John Stelman.

Miss Nichols and Kuks had been out automobile riding. The machine drove up in front of the Casino Hotel and Kuks, at the corner of Eleventh and Broadway, seeing the deputy sheriff standing near the entrance, he got out of the car and went into a passion and struck her with his fist with terrific force in the face, knocking her to the street.

Businessmen immediately intervened in the attack on the girl. Kuks was soon pounded and a pistol he was carrying was taken away from him. Police Officer C. Van Buren took Miss Nichols to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. Kuks was taken to the city prison, where he was held on the distant book pending the result of Miss Nichols' injuries.

Seriously Hurt

According to the examination of the girl, there was no fracture of the skull, but the blow had done considerable damage to the face and head. Kuks was taken to the city prison, where he was held on the distant book pending the result of Miss Nichols' injuries.

After Kuks' release, he and his father, who was a saloon man, were taken to the city prison, where he was held on the distant book pending the result of Miss Nichols' injuries.

NEW YORK STYLE

The Best Is None Too Good for Oakland Theater Goers.

All of the first-class vaudeville houses throughout the East produce continuous vaudeville programs. Short, snappy acts; no waits, no intermissions except at the close of the show. This is the class of shows the Bell Theater is producing right here in Oakland. The programs are arranged to suit your convenience. Those who desire to return home early attend the first evening show, which ends at 8:30 o'clock. To the class who prefer to linger over their dinner table and avoid the crush and jam on the early theater cars, find the second show at the Bell just right. It begins promptly at the close of the first. Remember this feature of the Bell program: no long drawn-out acts to wear on your nerves; just good vaudeville.

stream so far as the higher elements in character are concerned and for some of them the rapids are not far off.

He deplored card playing as one of the principles of gambling and as one of the games of chance which he said was not a legitimate recreation.

The divine pleasure for those forms of relaxation which send people back to their cellars and into the arms of the devil, he said, is not a legitimate recreation.

Our recreations must be such that they will build up the character and the body, and he will ask you why. Our distinctions must hold water.

Our attitude must be positive, not merely negative. It is not enough to steer clear of the striking evils and mere make our recreations harmless. Playing idle games or croquet is harmless but it is hardly called recreation. Our recreations must be such that they will build up the character and the body, and he will ask you why. You cannot have a good dinner without a flower who spends all his spare time and cash on recreation, thinking of his amusements when he ought to be thinking of his business, is in a fair way to ruin himself. Tell a boy it is all right to play croquet on green grass with a ball, but that it is wrong to play billiards on a green table with a ball, and he will ask you why. Our distinctions must hold water.

Disaster at Messina Recalls Time When Thousand Camped in Hyde Park.

The appalling death toll in the Messina earthquake is reported to be about 120,000. It tells the story of a girl who was deceived and sent to her death in the Canadian lumber country. Her half brother seeks the man and finds him attempting to lure another girl to ruin. It happens that the half-brother loves this girl so he takes her away but the villain follows and their meeting is the most exciting incident of the play.

RECORD SNOWFALL IN YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK

YOSEMITE CAL. Feb. 8.—The Federal park rangers patrolling the Yosemite National Park claim that the heaviest snowfall for twenty years which was about two feet, visited the valley during the past twenty-four hours. Snowfalls are in service and no interruption to traffic is anticipated. There is now three and one-half on the level and about five feet in drifts with no signs of the storm abating. With the past storm during the last two months the snowfall has been about thirty to forty feet in the surrounding hills which will assure abundance of water for the falls and river during the summer.

SOCIETY WILL PRODUCE 'THE GONDOLIERS'

WOMAN LIES ALL NIGHT IN RAIN

An unknown woman aged about 50 years, was found unconscious this morning at the corner of Fifty-sixth and West streets. She had been out in the rain all night apparently and presented a very bedraggled appearance. She had a small hand satchel with her in which were several articles of wearing apparel a night dress and a brush and comb. Beside her was a flask of whisky which was half empty. The initial on a silver-mounted bag carried by the woman was N. P. This is the only clue the people have as to the woman's identity.

The flight attracted a large crowd which became threatening when it was learned that Dickson had insulted a white woman. The crowd gathered to the ground the officer drew his revolver and held the crowd off until a squad of police came to the rescue.

ASKS AMNESTY FOR SURREAT

Legislation Is Sought for Son of One of the Lincoln Conspirators.

WASHINGTON Feb. 8.—No one in Washington can see any good purpose to be effected by the legislation suggested by Speaker Cannon by a citizen of Maryland that those who aided in the assassination of President Lincoln or who may hereafter confess to having so aided shall be granted pardon and amnesty. Of the men charged with complicity in the crime only one survives John H. Surratt son of Mrs. Surratt who was executed. He was never convicted of the crime but he has been sentenced to life imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth. Two years later he was recognized and brought back. He was tried but the jury disagreed and he was discharged. He now lives in seclusion in Baltimore.

AGED MAN SHOTS WOMAN WHEN SHE SPURNS HIS LOVE

Shoots Himself Three Times in Head After Firing Three Bullets into Her Body

R. J. HAMMACK, aged 66 years, is at the Receiving Hospital with three ghastly, self-inflicted bullet wounds in his head, and a few feet away lies Mrs. Mary Thoman with two bullets still in her head where they were fired by her aged suitor. Out in the corridor John Thoman, the woman's 18-year-old boy, is sitting in an agony of apprehension waiting to see if his mother will wake up and recognize him.

About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon Hammack proceeded to put into execution a plot he had formed for some time. Going to the sitting-room, where Mrs. Thoman was seated, the old man made a last appeal to her affections. He reminded Mrs. Thoman that she had encouraged him in his suit until she became acquainted with Policeman August P. Reinhardt, and he asked her to give up Reinhardt for him. Mrs. Thoman replied that she could not give up the policeman admirer, and told the old man that she no longer cared for him.

Shoots Woman and Himself

Without another word Hammack drew his revolver from his coat pocket and fired three shots into the woman's face at a distance of less than a yard. She fell to the floor, almost instantly unconscious. One bullet had entered under her right eye, another ploughed across her forehead, and the third entered below the left temple and is lodged somewhere in her throat. Then Hammack turned the revolver upon himself and fired three shots with the revolver pressed against the right side of his own head. None of the shots entered the skull, though the bone was laid bare and the scalp and flesh torn to ribbon.

Hammack realized that his attempt to kill himself had failed, and he had no more cartridges. Still holding the smoking weapon in his hand he ran out of the house and to the Owl drug store only a few doors away. Here he demanded strychnine, but the terrified clerk observed that his revolver was not loaded, and he refused to give the desperate old man the where with to end his life. By then the police had been summoned by the neighbors and Hammack was arrested and taken to the emergency hospital with the unconscious Mrs. Thoman.

Questioned by Petersen

The woman was placed on the operating table and revived, and Hammack sat in a chair where hastily applied bandages staunch the flow of his blood from the wounds in his head. While Captain of Detectives Peterson rapidly questioned him as the surgeons were preparing to operate upon his victim.

"She's the only woman I ever loved, and when she told me she loves me hard," he proclaimed. "When I saw her going farther and further away from me I couldn't stand it any longer. She said at first she thought a great deal of me, but Reinhardt came. I asked her today to let him go, but she said she couldn't give him up. Then when she told me she didn't care for me any more I tried to kill both of us."

"It Is So," She Says

Mrs. Thoman heard what her aged lover said, and when Captain Petersen turned to her for corroboration, and what might be a dying statement—she said: "Yes, that is so." Then the surgeons began their work.

One of the bullets was extracted from Mrs. Thoman's head, but the other two are still lodged there; one is in the muscles of the neck where it lodged after running down the skull, and the other is at the base of the brain. Mrs. Thoman is in a very critical condition, although the surgeons think it is possible she may recover.

Hammack is not badly hurt, and he will recover. When asked this morning why he committed the crime he just replied between groans: "Oh, I don't know. I couldn't stand it. Let me alone. Let me alone."

Mrs. Thoman's Story

When she regained consciousness this morning, Mrs. Thoman was allowed to talk for a short time. She was asked again concerning the matter, as it was thought that she was too dazed and stunned a condition to

MRS. MARY THOMAN.

BITE OF MAD DOG BETRAYS SLAYER

Fugitive Man-Killer Is Identified After Many Years While in Hospital.

MORELIA, Mexico, Feb. 8. — Jesus Lopez's sin found him out because a mad dog bit him. Lopez killed a man in 1902. He returned to Morelia some time ago and lived quietly, unrecognized. Then a mad dog bit him. He was sent to Mexico City for the pasteur treatment, and there he was recognized as the man wanted. He was arrested, and sent back to Morelia for trial.

Murder for 37 Cents

Lopez committed murder for thirty-seven cents. A man named Jesus Lopez owed him that amount and failed to pay. They quarreled. Lopez slipped up on Juarez while the latter was bathing in a creek, overpowered him and hanged him to a tree. The crime was caught under Juarez' chin and when Lopez returned three days later, his unfortunate victim was still alive. Then Lopez finished the job by shooting Juarez forty times.

Gas Trust Cases Are Carried Over

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The cases of Frank G. Drumm, Eugene De Sablin, John Martin and Eugene E. Schmitz, indicted in connection with the alleged gas trust bribery, were continued until March 8, in Judge Taylor's court this morning. Attorneys Drew and Barrett appeared for the defendants.

Several cases against Reef on the same calendar went over until the same date, but neither defendant nor counsel were present.

STREET CAR FRANCHISE ON COUNTY ROAD SOUGHT

The Oakland Traction Company, through President E. A. Heron, petitioned the supervisors this morning for a franchise on county road 1135 for a distance of about 1500 feet to a junction with Fruitvale avenue. The application was referred to the roads and bridges committee.

The application was in response to a petition from residents of Diamond asking for an extension of the railway on Thirteenth avenue from Sausal Creek at Hopkins street.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES FILES MONTHLY REPORT

The Associated Charities made its usual report upon the indigent cases in its charge. In the case of Mrs. Mamie Marshall, 2301 Ashby avenue, Berkeley, it was recommended the aid be discontinued, as a position has been found for her. In eight other cases aid is continued. In the case of Mrs. Gustave Wallin, 766 Seventh street, county aid was not recommended. The husband contributes $25 monthly and the Associated Charities extends aid.

FISH AND GAME WARDEN RESIGNS HIS POSITION

The resignation of C. H. Schween of Livermore as fish and game warden of Alameda county, was received this morning and accepted by the Board of Supervisors. As his reason, Schween gave his appointment as road foreman for the Pleasanton district, and his inability to do both places.

In Schween's place, D. T. Murphy was appointed fish and game warden, effective at once.

APPLIES FOR LIQUOR PERMIT IN SAN LORENZO

SUBURBANITES ASK FOR LOWER FARES

Want Supervisors to Compel Traction Company to Cut Rates One Half.

A petition has been pending before the supervisors for some time asking that the Oakland Traction Company be compelled to reduce its fare to San Leandro and neighboring towns to 5 cents instead of 10 cents as at present. Several improvement clubs are signers of the petition, and they set on the contention that the company is using the right-of-way from Leona Heights to Sather without a franchise, and that by an enactment of the board the company can be compelled to accept a franchise with a five-cent fare.

District Attorney Donahue notified the board this morning that it is his opinion that if the company has a title to its right-of-way a franchise cannot be forced upon it, and the matter now pending information as to the street car company's title.

A number of Elmhurst people were present, but Chairman Heron of the board is ill and cannot be in attendance. The board desires any action taken in this matter to go on record before a full board, so a hearing is to be postponed until Chairman Heron can be present.

When it is learned that the chairman can be present a special meeting will be devoted to a hearing, at which the Elmhurst people think their side of the matter can be presented in about three hours' time.

AGAINST PETITION FOR PROPOSED PUBLIC ROAD

The following self-explanatory letter was received by the supervisors and the matter was acted upon in accordance with the request contained in it:

Oakland, Feb. 8, 1909.
To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors—Gentlemen: In the matter of the petition of J. B. Mendonca et al. for a public road in San Lorenzo district, filed with the county clerk on September 28, 1908, and referred to me in conjunction with Supervisor Bridge, I beg to report as follows:

"I have made an examination of the proposed road on the conditions existing, together with Supervisor Bridge, and find that the lands adjacent to the proposed route have been sold in subdivisions fronting on this strip of land and referring to same as William Street."

This virtually amounts to the opening of this strip as a road and highway, although no map of subdivision has been placed on record. It would seem that if this petition be granted by the board it would be in direct opposition to the precedent established and rigidly adhered to by your honorable body on non-acceptance of streets in new subdivisions. I would recommend on this account that the prayer of the petitioner be denied.

Respectfully submitted,

E. A. HAVLAND,
County Surveyor.

WANTS MEDICINES AND DRESSINGS FOR POOR

Miss Louise Schmitz, the nurse employed by the city of Oakland to care for the various poor under the direction of the Associated Charities, appeared before the Board of Supervisors this morning to ask that the county provide medicines and dressings used in her work. She was told that the matter would be referred to the hospital committee and that she would be advised by letter of the board's action.

EVERY 'TURN' AT THE BELL IS A VAUDEVILLE HEADLINER

EVELYN RUSSELL, BUSTER'S MOTHER, AT THE BELL THEATER.

The three big audiences at the Bell Theater, in which were included hundreds of Oakland's bright boys and girls, had a hearty laugh at Evelyn Russell's comedy entitled "Buster's Gift." It is the "Buster" that furnishes lots of fun in "Buster Brown" last season. "Buster Brown" and "The" will hit at the Bell all week, so don't let the opportunity slip to see this clever pair, for no trick of the pen can make them out one-half as funny as they really are. Louis Merket is "Buster," and he sees him in the cartoons that have made him famous. Although twenty-six years of age and measuring two inches in height, he has been a star on Broadway, New York, for the past two years.

There are other treats on his excellent bill, including for one Miss Benner, the female baritone. Miss Benner captured the big Sunday or vocal act and added to the stage, which, with her unusual accomplishments and stunning wardrobe made an instant hit with the Bell audience.

The fellow with the grouch should see and hear big Phil Staats, representing 300 pounds of good wit, genuine humor and plenty of good nature. In his planologue he keeps the spectators in continuous laughter, and with his contagious wit he makes everyone happy. Staats is also a composer of note, one of his songs, "Some Day When Dreams Come True," being one of the recent popular successes.

Peaching Brothers, in a novelty musical act, present an unique number entitled: "A Musical Flower Garden," in which a budding and resolute garden of flowers and shrubs is in reality an assortment of musical instruments that this gifted duo manipulate with charming effect.

Curson Brothers, "the Apollos of vaudeville," are featured in a pretty exhibition of the gymnastic art and are real marvels of grace and strength. Special mention of the excellent picture on the Bellstage, depicting the earth-quake scenes in stricken Messina and Reggio, Italy, should be made. These pictures were taken especially for the Bell and their early showing was the subject of much favorable comment on the enterprise of the management.

Better Optical Service

Did we but maintain equal growth with the older optical houses of the State it would show our service to be as good as theirs. Inasmuch as we have grown far greater than they, grown in popular favor until we have more stores and factories, more help and more customers, there must be something about our service that makes it superior to anything they produce.

And we have tried to make it superior. The facts above mentioned lead us to believe that we have succeeded. It is proof to you that our opticians are scientifically competent to care for your vision, that our goods are perfectly constructed, that our prices are equitable and fair.

WAR WITH JAPAN A BEANSTALK BUGABOO

THE PRESIDENT'S frantic telegrams to the Governor and the Speaker imploring the Legislature to do nothing to give offense to Japan are in discordant contrast with the peace duet Washington and Tokio have been singing so lustily.

One of the most amusing skits in the comic opera, "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief," is a duet between the prime minister and the general of the armies in which each descants in fervid terms of his affection and admiration for the other.

What gives humor to this paean of mutual admiration is the fact that each man holds a big knife behind his back, and each maneuvers—unsuccessfully, of course—to get in the rear of his dearly beloved rival. The knives and the action show the Pickwickian and treacherous quality of the friendship so profusely and so mellifluously expressed.

Are we to understand that the friendship so prated about between the United States and Japan is of the same hollow and treacherous character as that depicted in "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief"?

IT IS CERTAIN THAT THIS COUNTRY CHERISHES NO HOSTILE DESIGNS ON JAPAN, BUT IS JAPAN SEEKING TO STAB US IN THE BACK?

In other words, is she seeking a pretext to make war with the United States at a time when the islands and American coasts of the Pacific have been stripped of protection?

We do not believe it. The President hints strongly at the danger of offending Japan at this time, but if he believes the Mikado's empire is in such a warlike and hostile mood, he emphatically discredits his repeatedly expressed belief that Japan is sincerely desirous of remaining on terms of amity and friendship with us. EITHER JAPAN IS A TREACHEROUS FRIEND AND A SECRET FOE OR THE PRESIDENT IS SUFFERING FROM AN ATTACK OF INDIGESTION.

THE TRIBUNE takes no stock in the talk of war. As a newspaper it is compelled to print the news of all that is being said on the subject, but it does not believe that Japan is so hot and hasty for war as to plunge into hostilities with the United States.

We have advocated conservatism in legislation affecting the rights of Japanese in this country and moderation of speech in discussing our relations with Japan, but we have protested against an abject surrender of the California Legislature's constitutional right to legislate in regard to the purely domestic concerns of this State. We confess to a feeling of irritation at the President's persistent attempts to run our State government and to humiliate the white people of California in the eyes of the world.

Even the Emperor of Germany would not presume to adopt toward one of the states of the Empire the arrogant and domineering tone Roosevelt has employed toward California.

Apparently he regards us as a parcel of ignorant, boisterous hoodlums, bent upon insulting and outraging a noble and superior race, and that we need to be dressed down with the Big Stick and the vocabulary of the Rough Rider.

IS HE TRYING TO MAKE US WORMS FOR THE JAPANESE TO WALK UPON?

One would think it from the roar he sets up every time a street gamin throws a clod or a spitball at a subject of the Mikado. What has become of the fiery Americanism of the Hero of San Juan Hill? Has it oozed out of his fingers' ends like Bob Acres' courage?

Is he really in such a terrible funk about war with Japan? or is he merely trying to frighten us into letting him have his way? HAS THE JAPANESE MINISTER ACTUALLY SERVED NOTICE ON HIM THAT HE MUST SPANK

CALIFORNIA and make her more amenable to Japanese ideas and aspirations or the United States will be blown out of the water instantly?

Possibly the President's fear of war with Japan merely originated in his penchant for running the whole show, bossing everything and everybody and filling the entire stage like Gulliver in Lilliput.

Aside from our confidence in Japan's peaceful professions, we regard the prospect of war with our Oriental neighbor as ridiculous for several reasons.

The pretext is too trifling to be of material consequence; Japan's financial condition precludes the notion that she is seeking another war, especially with a country so potential in wealth and military power as the United States. In a contest with this country she would find the might of the whole civilized world arrayed against her. Whatever temporary successes she might gain at the outset, disaster for her in the end would be inevitable. She would be irretrievably ruined financially and industrially. From a great and powerful Empire she would be reduced to the condition of a broken and impoverished state, broke in military power and financial strength.

HOWEVER, WE DO NOT BLAME THE JAPANESE PARTICULARLY FOR THE ANNOYANCES WHICH HAVE SO SUDDENLY COME UPON US. The trouble is at Washington. A few super-heated radicals at Sacramento have set the Presidential Big Stick to whirling and the Presidential temper to boiling, hissing and otherwise making things warm and uncomfortable.

The whole business would subside if Roosevelt would go to bed and take a pitcher of ice water with him. He needs rest and a cooling off.

Captain Qualtrough's Court-Martial.

At a naval court-martial held by the officers of Admiral Sperry's fleet while anchored at Gibraltar, Captain Edward F. Qualtrough, of the battleship Georgia, was suspended for six months and disgraced ten numbers for intoxication and conduct unbecoming an officer at one of the banquets given ashore in honor of the American fleet. The Georgia is now on her way across the Atlantic with her former commander as a passenger aboard.

Qualtrough is one of the most accomplished officers in the American navy. For over a quarter of a century he has been one of the best known authors on nautical matters the country has produced. He is known to every American yachtsman and professional sailor as the author of "The Sailor's Handy Book," "The Yachtsman's Manual," "The Boat Sailer's Manual," and other works which are standard nautical text books to amateurs and professionals. These works were written and published twenty-five years ago when he held the position of a lieutenant only.

Captain Qualtrough set up the defense that he was in ill-health and that he drank but one glass of wine at the function where he is said to have committed the breach of naval official decorum. But the findings of the court-martial show that the plea was discredited.

The incident exemplifies the changes that have taken place in the morale and discipline of the American army and navy in comparatively recent times. A moral temperance wave has swept over both services in late years and courts-martial on account of intemperance and unofficerlike conduct have been numerous.

During the civil war conditions were totally different. The immortal martyr president, Abraham Lincoln, was a model of sobriety, but when complaints were lodged with him against Grant's intemperance as a ground for his removal from the command of the United States army, he promptly met it by declaring to the delegation making the charge that he wished more of the generals in the Union army imbued the same fighting whisky and more satisfactory results might then ensue.

At Gibraltar, where Qualtrough's court-martial was held, it is a matter of interest in view of the verdict, that one of the traditions of the garrison is that on festive occasions no one is expected to leave the table sober. On returning to the barracks, when the sentry challenges—"Who goes there?" the reply is expected to be, "Drunkened officer in a wheelbarrow."

Sobriety in both army and navy is desirable, but it will never be firmly established until the serving of grog, particularly on the eve of going into action, is totally abolished.

The Kaiser Restores Les Majeste.

The German Kaiser has gotten over the fright occasioned by the lambasting he received from all classes of his subjects for the indiscreet interview he authorized published in a London newspaper and the usurpation of rights not guaranteed to him by the constitution. He has also grown tired of being cartooned and caricatured in the foreign prints, and has mustered courage to attempt to renew the operation of the law of lese majeste which has been suspended since the outburst of popular indignation over his indiscretion. It is reported that he has directed a list of all foreign correspondents in Germany to be collated and filed in the foreign office and that if any of them give further offense they will be escorted to the frontier and forbidden to return. In all probability, the Kaiser's new line of action will bring him into greater ridicule than ever and give renewed zest and inspiration to the foreign critics and cartoonists.

On Wednesday Congress will ransack the returns of the electoral college. While the ceremony is established by law, it will be merely a formality as it has been for many terms, as the results have been so decisive that there is no room for a challenge of the vote. But the ballots of each State will be opened and read by the Vice President and recorded by the Secretary of the Senate, in the presence of both houses and a brilliant gathering of foreign diplomats and officials of the government, and after making the formal inquiry as to whether any one present desires to enter a protest, the result of the count will be announced and Taft and Sherman will be declared to have been duly elected President and Vice-President of the United States for the next four years.

Remarkable Rain Record.

The rainy season continues to magnify its extraordinary record. It has been marked not only by an unbroken succession of storms covering a longer period than any season on record, but it is notable for the general distribution of the rain all over the State. No part of the latter has failed to get its quota of the rainfall.

In the bay region a third more rain has fallen than was recorded at a corresponding date last year. Practically the same result has been obtained in the northern and central parts of the State. And in the upper Sierra there has been a heavier fall of snow than has been known for many years.

In some of the southern counties, the rainfall up to date is practically double that of last year. Los Angeles records 14.21 inches against 8.89 inches for the same period in 1908. But San Luis Obispo county has the distinction of more than doubling the record this season. It is in fact one of the most favored counties this year in this respect in any part of the State south of Red Bluff, having to its credit a record of 25.27 inches against 11.65 inches last year.

If the State receives only moderate showers through the rest of the season, it is a sure bountiful crops in all sections.

The President's telegram to Speaker Stanton was terrifying enough to be sure, but it leaves unexplained why the Speaker should have felt the ground slipping from under his feet.

A new danger to wireless telegraphy seems to have developed in an unexpected quarter through the experience of the Mascotte Wireless Station across the bay yesterday morning when it was struck by a bolt from a passing thundercloud and the operator at the keyboard narrowly escaped death. Evidently the waves used to discharge and intercept the Heitzian waves in the transmission of messages serve as good lightning conductors, hence the danger. Fortunately thunderstorms in this part of the State are rare occurrences, but the experience of the Mascotte station indicates that electricians will have to devise some means of protecting stations against similar attacks from the clouds in regions where thunderstorms are common, or operators will be required to run tremendous risks.

Roosevelt seems determined to keep peace with Japan even if he has to lick Senator Perkins in the interest of harmony.

THIS MAN DOES NOT FEAR WAR WITH JAPAN

EDITOR TRIBUNE. Recent events indicate that our representatives at the school question are making history. The people of the Pacific Coast States are fully informed as to the undesirable social principles at the average Asiatic school, but in the interior and throughout the West the people are disposed to look upon this matter as merely a labor question, and kept alive by labor agitators. It is up to us who are a civilized nation to settle this matter. If we do not, we are in the hands of the labor agitators. In such cases a regular written contract usually covers the transaction and at its expiration the daughter is returned to her father without any impairment of her reputation and without standing among the people. It is a fact that many of the West know of such things, we stand unalterably opposed to the co-education of Japanese school boys, especially in the case of the daughters of our own people. WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The romantic marriage on December 18 of Miss Georgia Jeffery, an American woman, to a Russian prince in Hankow, China, may cause an indefinite postponement of the trial of Representative

It is known that Miss Jeffrey was an important witness, and who stated the woman in the street car in whose presence the negro used the oaths and other improper language which led the Alabama Congressman to shoot Lundy, and, incidentally, to shoot Tom McCroery, a horse trainer, who was a bystander in the street.

POLICE Shatter Girl's Dream of Stage Career

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—For the second time within a few days a sixteen-year-old juvenile, Joseph R. Hym, of 622 North 12th street, ran away from home. He avowed intention of going to seek a position on the stage. The first time he ran away to Norristown. This time she was arrested by Detective Long, on complaint of her mother, as she was walking up the steps of the Broad street station with a ticket to New York.

Her mother appeared at the City Hall and wanted to take her daughter home. The girl had spent the night in jail.

INTERESTING WIDOW WITH WHY

EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS DIDN'T STAY LONELY VERY LONG She Didn't Know

NEW YORK.—There is at present living in New York, at one of the biggest and most fashionable hotels on Fifth avenue, a woman whose methods of securing the notice and esteem of persons distinguished in the world of affairs, and, through them what society she can, are at least unique. To such a comparatively easy way it has been paved by an inheritance of $150,000 a year from her husband, who, before his widow—who was connected with one of the biggest firms of the country. But drifting in, unknown, from San Francisco, through Colorado and Michigan and New Jersey, after cursory glance over the field of New York, she realized that the way was no different for her mediocrity fifty thousand, with no acquaintance and no hook in it. She is handsome, dressed well and has the grace of speech and manner that fasci-

Nurse Gets Him From Prison to Doing Wife

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 8.—Miss Marie Connors, a professional nurse, a young woman with more than the usual amount of interest in her work-up, has made a name for herself by completely upsetting old law and tradition of 100 years or more of Ohio's attachment.

Two years ago William H. Moore, an old man, a member of the court, was living quietly in Columbus with his wife. He became involved in a scheme to graft the city, and was sent to the penitentiary for four years.

From the day he pleaded guilty his wife's health began to fail. When pneumonia attacked her she begged her husband still once he should attempt to bring this about. When Miss Rogers took the matter over, Governor Taft got a warrant for Moore's arrest, and he was taken under guard some for two weeks in the State penitentiary, for when

WANTS DIVORCE FROM HER ARTIST HUSBAND

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—Alleging cruel treatment, Mrs. Deborah N Austin is suing her husband, Robert S. Austin, of 2631 North Seventeenth street, an artist of some local note, for a divorce. Both have been twice married, and each has obtained a divorce previously.

Troublesome family affairs are too much for Mr Austin's nerves, especially when he is anxious to follow his artistic inclinations, and so he has decided not to stop his wife from getting her divorce.

Austin has achieved success in local circles, having won a prize at an exhibition at the Academy of the Fine Arts for his painting entitled, "When Duty Calls," "It's Ours to Obey," and having carried away another prize at one of the Wanamaker contests. His home is profusely decorated with his work.

There was a romantic tinge to the courtship that was responsible for the marriage, twelve years ago. Mrs. Austin is twenty years younger than her husband, but everything was rosy until two years ago. Then some financial difficulties arose, and the rest of it was rather stormy, said Mr. Austin yesterday.

Mrs Moore died, her last moments peaceful through the visit of her husband, the nurse got another order that he should be taken to the funeral.

Miss Rogers "The poor woman lay and cried for her husband, and someone had to get the order. When the men couldn't get it, why I just went and got it myself."

ENGLAND ALARMED AT NIPPONESE PROBLEM

People of British Columbia
Are Fiercely Opposed to Mikado's Subjects.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—The Record Herald today prints the following on the anti-Japanese agitation from a special correspondent at Washington:

"Arbitration is Japan's solution of all the question which may be raised between that nation and the United States by the action of State Legislatures on the Pacific Coast."

This is Japan's answer to the theory that trouble with the United States is imminent and that even war would not be unwelcome if the rights of Japanese subjects in America are too far encroached upon.

Wants Peace

"The determination of Japan to maintain peace and to have none but an amicable adjustment of all controversies became more than ever pronounced in official circles here today when it was disclosed that arbitration is the policy of the Japanese government."

If, through the action of Western Legislatures, the treaty rights of Japanese subjects shall be violated and the American government is not able to enforce treaty obligations on account of the peculiar dual system of government in that country, a semi-officially announced that the Japanese government will propose to the United States that the question at issue be submitted to the International Court of Arbitration at The Hague.

Whether or not the United States government would assent to such submission is another question not to be determined until the next crisis which it is hoped will never be.

England Alarmed

It was learned today in diplomatic circles that the British government is much alarmed over the progress of the anti-Japanese sentiment among the people of British Columbia. Japanese subjects have been found in the situation there is the danger that outbreaks of violence against the Asiatics are considered probable. The Japanese government is calling its government and it thus appears that England, as well as America, has a Japanese question on her hands.

WIFE IS DRIVEN INTO THE RAIN

For This and Other Indignities
She Cuts Decree From John Ward

Assisted by his father, who stood ready with a club to hit her if she attempted violence, John Ward was told to leave his wife, who was old and lame, to go to a hotel which permitted him to reject Charlotte Ward's advances for a reconciliation and to push her out into the rain. She was 19 years of age and very timid and her husband's coldness broke her heart. Leaving her she rode to the county line where she was met by a man and went home to a milk out of her way. Her testimony resulted in an interlocutory decree of divorce being granted her today for cruelty.

Hubby Always Took the Best

Ward preferred his parents' society to her own and that of her baby and took his pleasure in the theater while she remained at home in their flat. If he desired to eat dinner which she prepared and took all the best portions, she said and refused to talk to her or notice her leaving the room.

She had been arrested and later they lived together again, but she complained of being subjected to the same treatment. He told her that he had been crazy when he married her and finally notified her that his parents had offered him $10,000 if he would get rid of her.

At the same time he told her that he had had enough of her and she sought a divorce.

Noted French Poet Is Found Dead in Tunnel

PARIS, Feb. 8.—M. Catullo-Abraham, Kender the noted French poet, was found dead in the railroad tunnel at Germain today.

It is believed that the death was accidental. He boarded a train at Paris at midnight bound for his home at St. Germain. He had dined last evening at the home of a friend, Baron Oppenheim.

The authorities are of the opinion that he fell asleep in the carriage and that by mistake he opened the door of his compartment while the train was still in the tunnel and fell beneath the wheels.

Woman's Wit, However, Finally Lands Alleged Embezzler and Bigamist in Jail.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 8.—Woman's wit was the undoing of J. H. Bolin who is under arrest at St. Louis on the dual charge of embezzlement and bigamy. Bolin was lured from North Yakima by Mrs. Percy Bushnell, a letter promised to marry and do it. Besides the charge that he has two wives, it is declared that he has defrauded several girls as to his marital status.

Mrs. Bolin first learned that Bolin was wanted for embezzlement at a letter from the police of Provo, Utah, written after the police had intercepted a letter from the young woman to Bolin. It said that Bolin had married in Kansas City and soon desired his wife.

She next received a letter signed Irene Walker from St. Louis, stating that Bolin had been killed in an accident and offering her some of his personal effects. Miss Black recognized the writing as that of Bolin. She filed but first wanted the St. Louis police who arrested Bolin when he called for her letter.

Still another letter from Bolin's first wife was appended her of the bigamy charged against him.

Saturday was surely a gala day at the Lillies Music Co.'s store opposite the Orpheum. The musical merchants brought in along "Saturday" a lot of new goods. It is almost impossible to speak conservatively of that day as now present in the minds of the patrons of the Lillies Music Co. The new goods were in such abundance that it was difficult to find space for them all. The store was crowded with the latest in musical instruments, and the patrons were able to find everything they needed for their musical enjoyment. The store was a great success, and the patrons were very satisfied with the results.

AUTOS DEFY MUD AND RAIN

Nineteen Perfect Scores on 200-Mile Endurance Race

By ELIZABETH GREGG.

The end of yesterday's 200 mile endurance run saw a muddy group of drivers and spectators, a badly scattered line of automobiles and nineteen perfect scores.

Rain No Obstacle

If the general public has heretofore considered the automobile only a pleasure vehicle, it should be changed its opinion after yesterday's test. In spite of roads indescribably bad and a trip that was fun from easy to the dealers and those who went on the run are enthusiastic over it. Beforehand the pessimists were prophesying that only a few of the cars entered would show up if it rained, but in a thunder shower twenty-five out of twenty-eight cars showed up for the test.

A Good Start

The start was made at 8:30 and the cars went along at a good speed until the automobile boulevard was left behind. Then the roads were well kept in shape until they came to Tanforan. At San Mateo was another bad stretch which made the contesting machines lose time at San Jose. The cars drew up at Osen & Hunter's garage and received cards and letters from the Santa Clara Automobile Club. No time was lost there, however, as the roads were ahead and no one was going to take chances on reaching Oakland later than his five and a half hours allowed.

After San Jose

Leaving San Jose, the drivers and their parties met with a stretch of soft mud in which the perfect mud bath was taken and the general appearance of the party impaired.

Reach Oakland Early

As soon as Alameda county roads were reached things went better and the drivers made up time. They even found that 5 1/2 hours gave them too much time for the great number of them, so into Oakland ahead of time and waited awhile on Twelfth street, telling their experiences to local enthusiasts before continuing to the checking station at Twelfth street and Broadway. All

Dealers Drive Cars

Among the drivers were several prominent dealers who have heretofore proved their skill at the wheel in endurance tests. A. E. Hunter of Osen & Hunter drove a Mitchell touring car to a successful finish. Norman De Vries was there all the time with his two ex-luxury Auburn Buicks were handled by Charles S. Howard, the state agent and Carl Christensen, the Oakland agent. Mr. Howard had the hardest experience of the day in sinking his deep into a bed of soft sand near the cemeteries and requiring the aid of a team to extricate the machine.

Other Winners

Max Rosenfeld, president of the Dealers Association drove a Peerless of 1905 make and made a perfect score with the large car fitted to its utmost capacity. John H. Dora, manager for Studebaker Brothers, handled a four-horsepower Studebaker and carried in the tonneau the only ladies who made the trip. Miss Peral and Miss Charles Newhouse. Walter C. Morris, the Autocar man, won a perfect score as did also E. L. Cutting in a Ford A. D. Pluggoff in a Stoddard Dayton and F. Stark in a Franklin. Other winners were the D. W. E. Studebaker, another Mitchell driven by Ledy Martin Apperson, Overland Road and Rumble.

Excellent Showing

All of the machines entered made excellent showings, though the contest was by no means an easy one. Hard and wet driving was a spectacle for part of the race but the machines did not fail. The Buicks went through in triumph and two Mitchells, while a 1905 Peerless was the only single cylinder car to come in with a perfect score.

The machines which went out in the latter half of the run, fell by the way because of the trouble in two instances and of broken springs in two other cases. The best time of the day was made by the E. M. 1 Studebaker which was first in San Jose Oakland and San Francisco. The time made by the E. M. 1 between Oakland and San Jose was 1 hour and 25 minutes.

Roll of Honor

The cars which made perfect scores are as follows:
No. 1 Buick four-cylinder 40-horsepower touring car driver C. S. Howard.
No. 2 Studebaker four-cylinder 40-horsepower touring car driver J. H. Dora.
No. 3 Buick four-cylinder 40-horsepower touring car driver J. H. Dora.
No. 4 Apperson four-cylinder 40-horsepower touring car driver Frank M. Murray.
No. 5 Studebaker E. M. 1 four-cylinder 40-horsepower touring car driver E. L. Cutting.
No. 6 Buick White Streak four-cylinder 18-horsepower runabout, driver, Frank M. Murray.
No. 7 Peerless four-cylinder 30-horsepower touring car driver Max Rosenfeld.
No. 8 Rumble four-cylinder roadster driver, L. B. Hargreaves.
No. 9 Ford four-cylinder 20-horsepower touring car driver D. L. Cutting.
No. 10 Buick four-cylinder runabout driver R. C. Anthony.
No. 11 Mitchell four-cylinder 30-horsepower touring car driver E. Martin.
No. 12 Auburn two-cylinder 20-horsepower touring car, driver, Norman De Vries.
No. 13 Mitchell four-cylinder 30-horsepower touring car driver A. E. Hunter.
No. 14 Tourist four-cylinder 20-horsepower roadster driver D. W. Auerend.
No. 15 Stoddard-Dayton four-cylinder 45-horsepower touring car driver A. D. Pluggoff.
No. 16 Buick White Streak four-cylinder 18-horsepower runabout driver C. Christensen.
No. 17 Franklin four-cylinder 30-horsepower touring car driver F. Stark.
No. 18 Overland four-cylinder roadster driver R. G. Fowler.
No. 19 Autocar four-cylinder 30-horsepower touring car driver Walter Morris.

CROMWELL BEFORE GRAND JURY

District Attorney Awaits Advice in Alleged Canal Label Investigations.

NEW YORK Feb. 8 William Nelson Cromwell who was counsel to the Panama Canal Company of France, the rights of which were purchased by the United States Government, it was a witness before the grand jury today in the preliminary proceedings against the New York World and others in connection with alleged libelous publications regarding the Panama Canal purchase. When District Attorney Henry J. Jones was asked today if he had dropped the Panama investigation he said:

ATTORNEY STANDS BEHIND SUPREME COURT DECISION

SAN FRANCISCO Feb. 8—Attorney John C. Quinn who was a counsel to the Supreme Court by rest J. Brown of Oakland of contempt for refusing a habeas corpus case out of court in a letter to the judge, quotes Chief Justice Taft in the United States Supreme Court to show that habeas corpus is a civil action and not a criminal proceeding and as such civil matters may be settled outside of court. Quinn calls the judge's action a violation of his alleged rights in the case.

FORMER CONSUL NOW IN STATE DEPARTMENT

ALBANY Feb. 8—John A. Baker, former consul at Baker of the United States, who was at Choo Foo on the 10th of January, is now in the service of the State Department.

Former department chief in the division of foreign relations in the State Department, a house which is in the name of a distinct promotion. Baker entered the consular service shortly after graduating from the University of California, securing the position as vice consul at Choo Foo on the 10th of January of Benjamin Ide Wheeler.

Studebaker E. M. F. 30

Has proven itself a car for any road under any condition by making a perfect score in the 200-mile endurance run around the bay.

BUICKS WIN AS THEY ALWAYS DO

The showing made by the three different BUICK cars entered in the 200-mile endurance run yesterday proves that we are not afraid to enter more than one car.

ONE 40 H. P. TOURING CAR, driven by C. S. Howard, made a perfect score after losing 11-2 hours by being sunk in a sand hole. The time was made up, and the Buick came in triumphantly, none the worse for being nearly buried in the mud.

TWO BUICK WHITE STREAKS, driven by Carl Christensen and Frank E. Murray, made the trip with perfect scores. Christensen's car was a muddy sight, but it made record time. After being jammed by a street car at Twelfth and Broadway as it started on the return trip, the wheel was straightened, and the run to San Jose was made in 1 hour 5 minutes. None of the Buick cars used skid chains.
